

REPUBLICANS SPLIT IN THREE PARTS

BANDITS GET $350,000 AT BIG BANQUET

Woman Robbed of $250,000
Necklace As Seven Men
Break Up Party.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 15.—(I NS)—A state-wide search was launched early today for a daring gang of seven armed bandits who invaded the home of John L. Carson, Jr., in Snyder, a fashionable suburb of Buffalo, held up 18 socially prominent men and women guests, and made off with money, jewelry and clothing valued at between $200,000 and $350,000.

At an early hour this morning, a full check-up had not been made of the jewels stolen, but a general alarm had been sent out for the apprehension of the robbers. Due to the fact all seven bandits were masked, the task of locating them will be difficult.

The victims of the robbery were prominent persons from Buffalo, New York and other cities. They had gathered at the Carson home to attend a dinner and dance in honor of Miss Eleanor Cameron, of Cameron, Texas, daughter of Mrs. Howard Cole, of Park-ave., New York.

She was one of the principal sufferers from the bandits' depredations. Valuable gems were stripped from her neck and arms. Another heavy loser was Mrs. Ray Van Clief, of New York, from whose neck the bandits seized triple string of perfectly-matched pearls, said to be worth $250,000.

IN DINING ROOM
The eighteen guests were seated in the dining-room when the bandits entered, and told them to throw up their hands. Believing them to be acquaintances playing a prank, Mrs. Gibson Gardner, one of the guests, attempted to snatch the mask from the face of one of the robbers. She was promptly knocked under the table, but was not seriously injured.

The action convinced the other guests of the stern reality of the hold-up, and all stood up while five of the bandits went around the table with drawn guns, snatching all jewels and demanding all money be handed over.

In the meantime, the two other bandits had raided the upstairs bedrooms, stealing fur coats, jewels and other valuables. The bandits took everything in sight, including stick-pins, watches, cuff links, earrings, bracelets and necklaces.

They escaped in an automobile, heading toward Buffalo. Among the victims of the sensational robbery were W. Hamilton Gardner, well-known broker and amateur golfer and Courtland Van Clief, whom Miss Cameron is engaged to marry.

REV. SHOWERS, DAYTON, TALKS

Tells U. B. Father and Son
Banquet of Value of Father To Son.

Rev. J. B. Showers, Dayton associate editor of the Religious Telescope, United Brethren church publication, addressed more than 100 persons at the Father and Son banquet at the U. B. Community House Thursday.

Mr. Showers gave a splendid address and told of the value of father to son, and of son to father.

Judge E. A. Brown gave an interesting talk on Father and Son, and told the audience that the fathers do not accompany the sons to the church and Sunday school as they should.

Several short readings were given by fathers and sons in the gathering.

A fine chicken supper with all the trimmings was served by the ladies of the church.

TRAFFIC TAKES TWO PERSONS

Taxi and Auto Collide, and Man Drives Coupe In Front of Fast Train.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 15.—Two persons were killed here today as the result of traffic accidents, one with a taxicab and an automobile collided and the second when an automobile was struck by a train at a crossing near Port Columbus, the local airport.

Florence Ann Shirer, 19, was fatally hurt, her sister and two young men companions were injured when their car collided with a taxicab on the streets here at 2 a.m.

A man, who is believed to be Charles Painter, 20, was instantly killed when he drove his small coupe into the path of a fast Pennsylvania passenger train at the airport crossing after waiting for a freight train to go by. He apparently failed to notice the approaching Chicago-New York express.

Orlando DeVictor, 19, who was injured in a head-on automobile collision last night, died in a local hospital today.

STEP ON GAS, CAUSE WRECK

Girls Drive Car Into Pole,
Just In Front of Engine,
Escape Injury.

Two young girls narrowly escaped serious injury at about 5 p. m. Thursday when they drove the Essex touring car of Alonzo Starkey, Logan-st. into a telephone pole at the Pennsylvania crossing in S. Court-st.

Mary Starkey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Starkey had driven the car in front of Cleveland's grocery, when she got out of the car to enter the store she warned the girls not to touch anything as she had let the motor running.

Just as she stepped into the store one of the girls shifted a gear and stepped on the gas. The car jumped ahead and directly ran into an Ohio Utility pole. The pole with a light was knocked across the railroad track and was suspended in the air just low enough that a Pennsylvania railroad yard engine crashed into it just a second later.

If the automobile had not hit the light pole it would have gone onto the track and directly into the path of the engine.

Neither of the girls was hurt. The front end of the Essex was damaged slightly. The Ohio Utilities crew arrived on the scene and had a new pole up and a new street light in operation in exactly 55 minutes.

Charles Lager and Theodore Koch of Jackson-ty have returned from a hunting trip in West Virginia.

GRAF GUEST ADDRESSES ROTARIANS

Frank Nicholson Tells of Perils and Pleasures of Over Ocean Trip.

Rotary members and guests were treated to an interesting talk about the Graf Zeppelin at their weekly meeting Thursday. Frank Nicholson of New York, a guest of R. P. Enderlin told of the return from Germany with the Graf Zeppelin.

Mr. Nicholson sailed to Germany in the interests of the Columbia Broadcasting Co., the Hearst Newspapers and The E. P. Dutton Book Publishing Co. and returned to American on the Graf Zeppelin. He was on the Zeppelin when it had the experience of broken motors and was forced to land in France and await new motors before returning to its base in Germany.

He returned with the Zeppelin and waited until the necessary repairs were made in order to make the return trip to America. Mr. Nicholson has written a book about this trip and he told some of the things that his book contained. Spending 24 hours on the Zeppelin and not making the trip monotonous was rather an easy thing to do the way the hours were arranged Mr. Nicholson stated.

MEALS GOOD
The meals were good, in fact they were no better on the Zeppelin, Mr. Richardson stated. When all the motors were going on the return journey, the Zeppelin sailed on an even keel and the voyage was not rough, as some people would expect. The hardest job that passengers had to do was to refrain from smoking, which was absolutely forbidden.

He explained the arrangement of the Zeppelin and how it was possible to go from the first cabin to the rear cabin on the "cat-walk" with nothing to firmly guide the steps and how dangerous a slip may be.

Rev. C. W. Ruhlman, one of Circleville's new ministers, completed the Rotary program with an interesting talk on "Our Country" and how much we should appreciate the privilege of living in the present time when the goodness of life is so plentiful.

PLAN FOR COOPER
Final plans for the meeting of Thursday, Nov. 21, were completed. At this meeting Governor Cooper will be the guest at a joint meeting of Rotary, Kiwanis and the Chamber of Commerce. The meeting will be held at the Boggs Hotel at 6 p. m. and as the capacity of the Boggs dining room is limited only members of the three organizations will be able to attend and tickets for this meeting must be secured from the President and Secretary of these three organizations.

Fight Deportation of Girl

Many prominent persons have joined the fight to prevent the deportation of Miss Elsa Seidel, a Prussian girl, who came to Chicago two and a half years ago to visit her sister. A few weeks ago she received notice of deportation. Miss Seidel is shown conferring with her attorney, William Rothman, who is also President of the Steuben Society of Chicago.

Young Columbus Lad Leads Police Merry Chase Over Wet Pavements

COLUMBUS, Nov. 15.—"I'd have gotten away if the streets would have been dry."

A 15-year-old boy, an alleged auto thief, who is being held by juvenile authorities, made that boast today. The boy, James Allison, is nursing a bullet wound in his hand, which he received during a wild automobile chase over wet and slippery pavements here yesterday.

Two detectives, whose suspicions were aroused by the youthful "joy-rider," gave chase when they saw him.

Allison refused to heed their commands to stop. The detectives fired at him. A bullet entered the lad's hand, but he kept going. Driving an alleged stolen automobile, the lad swerved in an out among city streets until finally his ride terminated when the machine slid into a telephone pole and then careened into a tree as it failed to round a corner.

The pursuing detectives said that the boy had driven the automobile at least 50 miles an hour. The streets were treacherous because of falling rain. Taken to police headquarters, Allison allegedly admitted that he

HEALTH DAY BY DONALD RADER

Health is an essential factor in the life of the school child. Teachers of the City schools are creating interest in health habits by organizing health clubs, health charts, good personal habits talks and vaccination campaigns.

On one side of the school room sits a small, weakling of a boy with sunken eyes and pale cheeks on the other hand sits a healthy robust lad, with his merry eyes gleaming as he sees the bright spots in life. What pleasure does a child see when he is sick and the world seems to be giving him the worst of it?

Any physician will readily explain to you how a child in poor health and the body in a run down condition may be mentally handicapped. Health is desired by all but not everyone possesses this treasure of mother nature's gift to the human being. Health is a product of nature that the richest man of the world can not buy.

Why? Money is gained by work and every citizen of Circleville realizes the fact that a successful business man never lets his health run down until it is beyond medical control. A man of poor means can always rise to a much higher state of living if he works.

Work requires strength, not only bodily strength, but mental. Proper health habits give this. Health habits are acquired by practice and not by teaching. A child may be taught in the schools many ways to preserve good health but that is not saying that he will practice these. It is up to the parents of the child to help foster and enforce the habits of health.

It is essential to designate at least one day of the school year to remind the children and parents of the value of good health.

JAMES W. GOOD HOLDING OWN AT HOSPITAL

Cabinet Member Passes Fair
Night—Has Fever of 102
Degrees.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Clinging tenaciously to life, Secretary of War James W. Good was reported at 7:30 a. m. today, to be "holding his own" at Walter Reed Hospital, where on Wednesday he underwent a serious appendicitis operation.

Good passed a fair night, according to hospital authorities, but his temperature has risen considerably.

His condition, however, was admitted to be very dangerous, with a crisis expected during the day.

Physicians who have been attending President Hoover's cabinet member since his admittance to the government hospital, last night held a consultation following which a brief but not optimistic report was made regarding the 62-year-old patient.

The war secretary continued to maintain a high fever—nearly 102—the physicians said, and indicated he was in a semi-conscious condition. Pulse and respiration were satisfactory, the physicians agreed.

Attending the consultation were Col. William L. Keller, army medical corps surgeon, who performed the operation, Dr. Joel T. Boone, personal physician to President Hoover, Secretary of the Interior Wilbur, himself a physician, and other physicians and surgeons of the Walter Reed staff.

Mrs. Good, who has been at the side of her husband ever since his attack, remained at the hospital throughout the night, occupying a room adjacent to her husband's.

Nearly 48 hours have passed since the operation, and another 24 hours must pass, surgeons declare, before passing of the critical period.

GAS FATAL TO TWO SAILORS

Five Other Members of New York Crew Suffer Injuries
From Poison.

NORFOLK, VA., Nov. 15.—(IN S)—A collection of poisonous gas believed to have been generated from fresh paint and to have lain dormant and imprisoned for many months, was responsible for the death of two and the injury of seven other members of the crew of the U. S. Battleship New York.

The gas had collected in a blister, and overcame the men when they entered it for inspection and to allow fresh air to penetrate the chamber.

Lieut. R. H. Hollenbeck, son of Dr. J. D. Hollenbeck, of Rogers Park, Chicago, and Boatswain Mate Thomas C. Weber of New York, died after being removed from the compartment.

Those overcome by gas, but recovering today, were: Wilkins R. Herrin, Huntsville, Ala.; Morris Albert, Louisville, Ky.; Henry Burnett, Los Angeles; Wm. L. Standford, Philadelphia; Arthur P. Nagenhast, Detroit; Ewing Ledbetter, Livingston, Tenn.; and A. C. Aherns, a ships fitter. All are enlisted men.

CAR STOLEN FROM GARAGE

Mrs. Davis Puts Chevrolet In
Garage Monday, Missing
Thursday Evening.

Mrs. George Davis, 900 S. Pickaway-st., reported to police Thursday that her new 1928 model had been stolen from her garage a short time between Monday evening and Thursday evening.

Mrs. Davis had taken the car on Monday and had placed it in the garage at the side of the house. When she went to get it Thursday evening it was gone.

The car carries the license plate, numbered B-3207.

Dr. O. H. Dutton was taken to the Grant Hospital Columbus, Friday in the Albaugh invalid car, for observation.

Contents Prohibition Law Is Failure

States should be allowed to decide the prohibition question for themselves, Miss Virginia C. She blames much violation of the law on a "silly and offensive fashion of breaking the law for diversion."

CLUB DRESSING ROOM ROBBED

Search For Two Boys In Theft of About $20 From Basketball Players.

Two Circleville boys are being sought by police Friday for a robbery in the dressing room of the Circleville Athletic club sometime between the hours of eight and nine Thursday evening when about $20 in money and other things were reported missing.

The two lads in question were seen in the club rooms shortly before 8 p. m., and although there is no definite proof that they are the thieves, they are to be questioned.

The Circleville Athletic club basketball team was practicing along with the Lutheran Brotherhood team.

Thefts were said to have been anywhere from 50 cents to $3 and $4.

Joe Lynch, manager of the club team, reported the loss of a clinic thermometer.

Another report was being circulated as to whom the thief might have been. A man entered the club rooms at about this time and asked several members for enough money to get himself a bed for the night. He was not seen to enter the place and was not seen to leave. No trace of the man could be found Friday.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Conrad of Clinton-st.

FESS AT HEAD OF MOVE FOR TARIFF HELP

Twenty Republicans Join Insurgents To Comply With Hoover's Wish.

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Splitting the Republican party into three factions and bolting their regular leaders, a militant group of 20 regular Republican senators joined hands with the insurgent group today to carry out President Hoover's request for passage of the new tariff bill through the Senate before the special session ends.

This new alignment, aided by a handful of Democrats, blocked every attempt to fix a definite date for adjourning the special session. They ignored the regular leadership and announced a determination to keep the senate in session day and night until it enacts the tariff. Their purpose was to carry out the request of the President, made last week for passage of the bill within two weeks.

The new Republican "stalwarts" were led by Senators Vandenberg, of Michigan; Hastings, of Del., and Fess, of Ohio. They organized their group; it was learned, at a dinner party given by Senator Kean, (R), of New Jersey, and included in their number, Allen, Glenn, Goff, Gillett, Goldsberry, Hatfield, Herbert, Metcalfe, Patterson, Sackett, Steiwer, Thomas, Ida, Townsend, Walcott, Waterman, besides the House. Most of them are serving their first terms in the senate.

This militant band, styling itself the "insurgents," today announced an issue of adjournment, planned to keep the senate in session day and night until the bill passes.

MAY SUCCEED
Their very enthusiasm gave some indication they might succeed, since the insurgents have announced a like purpose. It was even hinted the measure might be sent to conference by the Senate before Nov. 23, the date fixed by the leaders for adjournment, thus allowing the senate a week's rest before the new session starts Dec. 2.

These Republican "stalwarts" have gone so far as to circulate and sign a petition, pledging their united attendance at night sessions. This was a clear rebellion against the leadership of Senator Jones (R) of Washington, who is acting floor leader, and Senator Reed (R), of Pennsylvania, who has dominated the Republican tariff wars. Both Jones and Reed favored adjournment Nov. 23 and opposed night sessions.

Their activity drew a rebuke from Senator Harrison (D), of Mississippi, who chided them on bolting their leaders.

The group won the approbation of Senator Reed Smoot (R), of Utah, who is fathering the tariff bill. Smoot announced he was willing to stay at the helm day and night "if it kills me" until the bill is passed.

Senators, who favored an adjournment, based their attitude on a desire to get some rest before the regular session starts. Senator Royal S. Copeland (D) of New York, noted physician, asserted senators were "killing themselves" by overwork on the tariff bill. Copeland sponsored a resolution, directing the senate to "lay aside" the tariff bill tomorrow. In effect, this would be an adjournment. He hopes for a vote on the resolution today.

WALL STREET FEELS RELIEF

Thursday's Stock Jump of 1 to 17 Expected To Improve Rampant Market.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15—A distinct feeling of optimism—and relief—pervaded Wall Street today. Everywhere, in brokerage banks and business places, expressions of confidence in a continued improved market could be heard. Predictions have become almost aggressively "bulls." The consensus in "the street" seemed to be that yesterday's 1 to 17-point rally of stock prices marked the end of the dreary succession of slumping markets.

1.—The fact that the downward movement of prices has received a decided jolt. Yesterday's recovery in price was expected to be followed today by substantial buying orders from all parts of the country.

2.—Announcement of prominent "bears" that they are through with the "bear" side of the market. Such an announcement was made by William H. Danforth of Boston and New York who has been credited with extensive operation on the "bear side." A few days ago Jesse Livermore, one of the biggest "bears on the street" until recently, declared "he" has switched to the buying side.

3.—Reduction in the discount rate by the New York Federal reserve bank from 5 to 4 1-2 per cent. This is the harbinger of still easier money conditions throughout the business world. It lifts another burden off the backs of business men, coming on the heels of the proposal of Secretary Mellon to bring about a reduction in corporate and personal taxes.

4.—Declaration of extra dividends by big business corporations, showing their confidence in present conditions in this country and the prospects for the immediate future. After the close of the market yesterday General Motors Corporation, in addition to their 75 cents regular quarterly dividend, declared an extra dividend of 30 cents a share.

In view of these optimistic developments, traders looked forward to the opening of today's market with more confidence than they have at any time in weeks. A decline of $710,000,000 in brokers' loans as reported by the Federal Reserve bank also was looked on with favor. This brings the total of loans on securities to $4,172,000,000 and represents a decrease of $2,632,000,000 in brokers' loans since October 2. Most of this decrease in brokers' loans, financial experts agree, has found its way into business.

Lady Aster Fears Dirigible Flight

LONDON, Nov. 15—Lady Astor, British parliamentarian and the former Nancy Langhorne of Virginia, stood accused today of having "cold feet."

Lady Astor was one of the 100 members of parliament who drew tickets for a flight aboard the new giant British Dirigible R-101. She withdrew because of business appointments, and was immediately set upon by opponents, who teased her for being "afraid" to travel in the airship.

Two men members also withdrew, but all three places were promptly filled.

CHILLICOTHE MAN COULD NOT EAT SLEEP OR WORK

But Spinago Showed Him The Way to Health, Strength And Happiness After All Others Had Failed

Spinago, the friend of the sufferer, the enemy of pain, daily adds to the list of those who have this super tonic to thank for health and happiness regained. Every mail brings letters of praise from those who considered their cases hopeless until Spinago came along. The druggists who distribute this master medicine are deluged daily by those anxious to tell what Spinago has done for them as well as by those seeking relief from stubborn ailments. Witness the case of Otis Lambert who resides in Chillicothe at 266 Western Avenue. He speaks as follows:

MR. OTIS LAMBERT

"For a long, long time, I doctor-ed continually and took one medicine after another in a vain effort to regain my health which had been driven away by indigestion, constipation, nervousness and liver troubles. I couldn't eat; I couldn't sleep; I couldn't work. After every meal I went through great agony even though I ate only the simplest of foods. Refuse and waste matter piled up within my body causing me to lose all my pep and energy and to experience a tired worn-out feeling all the time.

After trying countless remedies, one after another, with no success, and after being forced to give up my work, I realized that something had to be done, and done quickly. Luckily, I just heard of Spinago just at this time, and decided to give it a trial. The results were immediate and pleasing.

Three bottles worked wonders for me—put my digestion back in shape, perfectly regulated my bowels and steadied my nerves. I can eat anything now without fear of suffering; all waste is immediately eliminated from my body; I can sleep well and am able to do my day's work without a sign of exhaustion. Truly, Spinago has done much for me and I am eternally grateful.

Spinago is sold and guaranteed by The Mykranitz Pharmacy, 107 N. Court St., where many call daily to express their thanks for its assistance. Spinago is also sold by all other good druggists in this section.

DON'T neglect a child's constipation. It is the cause of so many ailments; biliousness, headaches, feverishness, salivary, broken-out skin; a general run-down condition.

The first signs of sluggish bowels are usually bad breath or coated tongue. Then it's time for good old California Fig Syrup. Children need no urging to take it. They love its flavor. And it works every time. It cleanses the little system of all souring waste. It gives tone and strength to lazy bowels and stomachs, so they continue to act natural.

County School News

MUHLBERG NEWS

Our school library has been rearranged and re-catalogued, according to the material accessible. This is a fine collection of books of which we are duly proud.

School books will be handled in the future by the school office. School book accounts have been taken over by the school board and all accounts will be paid to Mr. Hill at the school office.

The attendance of our school has reached the highest mark of the last two years. For the past two weeks the attendance has averaged 94 percent. We hope that for the good of the children that this will continue.

The chapel program was held in the school auditorium on Monday, Nov. 11, 129. This program was in commemoration of Armistice day. A large crowd was present and a fine patriotic program was rendered by the fifth and sixth grade.

SPORTS

Friday night we turn our athletic interests to basketball. Darby is our first opponent at home Nov. 15. Come out and get an idea of the material which have to offer for this sport.

PERRY-TWP.

Last Friday night, Nov. 8, the Atlanta High School basketball team played the Alumni team. Something was wrong with the Alumni team. Guess it was lack of practice. The high school won with a score of 23 points and the Alumni team, 22. This was the line-up:

Wednesday night, Nov. 27, there will be a Thanksgiving entertainment given in the school auditorium. The second, third and fourth grades are putting on this program. Everybody is welcome. Not many more days, hours, minutes and seconds are left to wait. Friday, Nov. 15, we play New Holland girls' and boys' basketball teams. Yea-a-a-a team! Fight! Fight! Fight!

The following pupils received a perfect grade in spelling for week ending Nov. 8. Those pupils having stars before their names have received a perfect grade for the last three weeks:

Eighth—Thelma Davis, Ellen Davis, George Clements, George Speakman.
Seventh—Allen Conrad, Sherman Allen, Donald Reisinger, Jean Overmeyer, *Margaret Williams, *Hattie Thacker, *Roger Keaton, Thomas Farmer and Margaret Turner.

Sixth—*Doris Hughes, *Blanche Wright, Earl Carter, Esther Davis, John Speakman, Clayton Whiteside and George Williams.
Fifth—*Belligene Campbell, Orville Conaway, Ray Creighton, Genevieve Denchue, *Martha Donohoe, Bertha Duvall, Wiley Forsythe, *Martha French, *Ferne Irvin, Eddie Keaton, Eugene Patterson, Addie Skinner, Zelpha Stevenson, and Ruth Wright.

Third—Harold Gray, John Peck, Viola Reeves, Kathleen Thacker, and Neal Wright.
Second—Raymond Carter, Dwight Davis, Thomas Donohoe, Nellie Forsythe, Junior Hoskins, Opal Hunt, *Louise Justice, Elsie Long, *Pauline Mills and Lucille Williams.

For our assembly period Monday morning we had a special patriotic program in commemoration of Armistice Day and National Education Week. Rev. Webb of Kingston, pastor of two churches in this township, was the speaker, and his message was well received. His scripture lesson was the Beatitudes and his sermonette emphasized the principles and the importance of peace. "Blessed are the peacemakers," "Blessed are the meek," etc., Armistice Day 1929 is more important than Armistice Day 1918, because such great strides toward universal peace have been made.

On our magazines and newspaper table is a copy of HY-SPY, the publication of Rossford High school. It is a complimentary copy sent to us by Prin. C. F. Doebler, who was our principal two years ago. We appreciate his remembrance and are pleased to know that he is doing well in his new field.
Our high school students enjoyed a holiday last Friday while the teachers attended the program of the Central Ohio Teachers' Association at Dayton Friday and Saturday. They are unanimous in reporting it the best program in the history of the association. Our own Mr. Warren is a member of the executive committee which planned this great program. Anything Mr. Warren helps to plan is sure to be of the highest order. He is quite generally recognized as one of the outstanding school men of the state, and the schoolminded people of Pickaway-co are proud to have him at the head of their school system.

Our principal, Mr. Otto C. Meyer, has introduced the honor roll plan into our school. The three highest of each class are given this honor, and all who have a rating of 2.5 points are given honorable mention. A grade of E counts four points; G, counts three points; A, two points; and P, one point. Thus it is readily seen that those who receive honorable mention must have some G's or E's. It is hoped that this plan will encourage more study and result in higher scholarship. It most cases those who attain this honor will be those who study one or two hours per day at home. No boy or girl in high school can hope to make satisfactory progress without this home study. Parents who want their sons and daughters to make the most of their high school opportunities will see that they have a time and place for one or two hours of study each night. Unless some other time is more convenient, we suggest that the period from 7 to 9 o'clock be reserved for this purpose.

Our P. T. A. is having its meeting on Tuesday night of this week. Mrs. Shelton, wife of Supt. Shelton of Springfield, is our speaker. Next week we shall give a full account of the meeting.

Basketball practice has begun in earnest. Our season opens at Kingston Thanksgiving week, Tuesday, Nov. 26. Our first at home game will be with Salt Creek, Friday, Dec. 6.

Our board of education after Jan. 1, 1930, will consist of Ralph Head, Albert Musselman, (who were reelected), Shirley Dreisbach, Lyman Penn (who continue their present term), and Henry Dunkle (newly elected).

LEADERS IN NAME ONLY

There is a continuous obligation owed by every individual to the community and especially by those most favored by fortune. Enlightened self-interest should quicken acceptance of the obligation. There is hardly room for argument that what is good for the community is, broadly considered good for the individual in his work. Conversely what is good for the individual in the best sense is good for every other man, woman and child in the community.

Too much must not be expected from politicians and parties, too often approached from both sides on the basis of a horse trade. Governmental agents must be supplemented by the efforts of private persons who can envision things as they ought to be, and at long range. Politicians and officeholders, regardless of what they may say in their campaigns, are mostly concerned with getting into office and staying in. That is why they are in politics. They are in politics to get into office or to have a hand in putting others in office, as other men and women are in business or professions to make money or a career, or both.

But the politician and officeholder is usually wise enough to know that that which is beneficial to the community or state or nation will best react to his benefit. His motives for serving the public may be selfish but the service is no poorer for that. No man can long remain in public office or in political control who consistently disregards the will and welfare of the voters. Public service is the foundation upon which he must build his political power. Failure to give satisfactory service has wrecked more political careers than anything else. Convince the majority of the voters that those in office are not giving a fair return, in service, on the dollar, in taxes, and it will take more than a slush fund and political machine to keep them in office.

Aluminum Alloys Formed

Aluminum is combined with other metals, according to reports of processes developed by a San Francisco inventor, to form valuable alloys. With gold, a hard, light alloy is prepared; a silver mixture so hard that it can be sharpened to a razorlike edge is also made, and copper is made suitable for use in tools.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Indians Are Born Artists

Art is racial to the Indian, not local. When the American works in materials that afford him scope for self-expression, such as basket weaving or basket making or pottery, his product equals any folk product in the world, and exceeds much that we import at great expense from Russia and the Balkans.—Mary Austin in the Forum.

NEEDING A WIDER DOOR

"The Masked Hostess" by BLAIR STEVENSON

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Nathalie Van Slaick summoned from Europe by the death of her father, "Happy Jack" Van Slaick, wealthy sportsman and society leader, learns from her lawyers that the fortune has been wiped out. Only $28, and an old abandoned estate, "The Pirs," have been left to her. John Sloan, young attorney, is assigned to handle her affairs. Nathalie, with only youth, beauty and social position is further discouraged when her wealthy aunt, Mrs. Pemberton Swayne, coldly turns her away from her regal Southampton mansion. Nathalie in desperation cashes a check for $500, at the Waldorf Hotel where her family name is still accepted as the symbol of untold millions. Sloan, unknown to Nathalie, makes good this false check. On a second trip to Southampton, Nathalie is startled when a strange, swarthy man calls for her. Fearing the police, she flees the house.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER VII
THANKS to the fact that every road in America has a certain amount of motor traffic pass over it every day Nathalie had stood only a few minutes in the shelter of the shrubbery beside the gate through which she had escaped, when an automobile appeared and she promptly hailed it.

It was not a very pretentious car for its business was commerce and not pleasure. It belonged to a grocer, had a boxed-in body and was driven by the grocer's delivery man. But to Nathalie it spelled salvation. She pressed a five dollar bill into the driver's hand.

"I must get to New York, this late for my train. This is yours; if you get me to the station in time."

The driver asked no questions. Five dollars was five dollars to him and the moment she was beside him he stepped on the gas. The boxed-in body behind them was a screen completely concealing her from her aunt's house as the grocer's helper turned the next corner on two wheels and headed for the railroad station. The only New York train for the next three hours reached the station almost at the moment that the groceryman deposited Nathalie on the platform. She hastened into the car nearest her and sank into the first chair she saw with a sigh of relief that was almost a sob.

But she was not the last passenger to catch the train. Just as it began to move a taxicab dashed up to the station platform and its occupant, flinging a bill to its chauffeur, swung himself onto the platform of the car behind her. She had an instant's glimpse of his face but even without it would have known his dark, gray clothes and his hard derby had in any company. He was the "person" who had demanded to see her at her aunt's house, the man who was sent to arrest her for passing a worthless check.

A Train Porter Spoke to Her, Warning Her That the Train Was About to Leave.

train brakes were applied suddenly and it came to a stop between two stations.

Several of the men passengers in the car left it at once to determine what was wrong and in a matter of minutes one of them came back laughing and explained that the train was holding up the platform, having started itself on the tracks at a grade crossing.

Mechanically Nathalie looked out the window as he spoke, and made another step toward the van—then gasped as she saw the man in the gray suit and hard hat walk by beneath her along the railroad bank.

the perfect opportunity of escape afforded her by the chance stop of the train. Summoning all the coolness of which she was capable she picked up the small hand bag which was her single piece of baggage and walking to the rear platform of the car left it on the side of the train opposite from that on which she had seen the man.

A train porter, who had not seen her alight, spoke to her a moment after she was out of the train, warning her that the van was clear of the tracks and that the train was about to start. He touched his cap and accepted her explanation when she assured him that she was not a passenger but had come from one of the scores of automobiles waiting at the

DR. COPELAND SAYS Value of "Roughage" in Diet

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M.D.
United States Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

THERE is no question that constipation may be a factor in producing piles, or "hemorrhoids," as the doctors call this trouble. The severe straining at stool, which the victim of constipation practices may result in swelling of the soft tissues at the exit of the bowel. In time constant enlargement has taken place.

For similar reasons heavy lifting and constant standing or sitting may be followed by hemorrhoidal development. Anything that interferes with the free circulation of the blood in this region, will promote trouble of this nature. The presence of painful hemorrhoids, a fissure, or other sore place, may be a factor, too, in producing constipation. The painfulness of the passage causes the victim to postpone bowel movement as long as possible. The two conditions are so intimately related that each appears to aggravate the other.

The longer the waste material is left in the bowel, the greater is the probability of fermentation. When fermentation takes place there is gas formation. In its turn, the gas dilates and distends the bowel. If long continued, the distention causes the muscular wall of the intestine to become weak and flabby. Gradually, therefore, the power to expel the mass is destroyed and the constipation becomes more obstinate and hopeless.

For similar reasons large and frequent enemas are liable to do harm. The injection of water every day and for weeks at a stretch may dilate and distend the intestinal walls. Such treatments are unwise without medical approval.

It health has its effects upon the muscles of the abdominal cavity, just as it has on the general muscular system. Constipation is a common and important symptom of lowered vitality and poor health.

Many persons who are otherwise 100 per cent well and strong may have constipation. In most instances it is the result of the lack of proper drinking are important factors. The food of modern life is too refined for our good. We need roughage in our diet. Coarse food is essential.

Regularity of bowel action is of the greatest importance. Immediately after breakfast, time enough should be taken to coax a movement. Running to catch a train is no proper substitute for what is your duty to yourself at that hour of the day. Cathartics, laxatives, salts and other drugs are unsafe. They merely add fuel to the fire. But the natural methods—food, water, exercise, muscle development and regularity in habits—these will do more in the long run than any medicine.

Answers to Health Queries

A. V. A. Q.—Is the electric needle the only way to banish superfluous hair? Is it usually successful? What doctor specializes in this kind of work? What is the system?

A.—This method if done by an expert should be successful in every respect. See a skin specialist. I am not familiar with the system in question therefore cannot advise you.

THEATRES

AT THE GRAND

George Lewis and Dorothy Gulliver play the leading roles of "Honeycomb Flats" appearing at the Grand theatre Friday only.

The story is a rollicking drama of married life in a flat with all its drawbacks. The trend of affairs is of young wives and commuting husbands, and naturally marriage mixups. The story is full of laughter from start to finish.

A talking comedy and the eighth chapter of Pirates of Panama is also listed.

AT THE MET

Bonfires were lighted and the whole motion picture colony of Toluca Hills, near Hollywood, turned out to celebrate for His Honor the Mayor, when announcement was made at the Paramount studio, recently, that Richard Arlen had signed a new contract with the Paramount company to play leading featured roles.

Richard Arlen in His Honor the Mayor in Toluca Hills, a hide-away residential district from film players. His election by acclamation was a matter of record more than a year ago.

Under Arlen's new contract, he played the leading role, with Mary Brian, in Paramount's latest all-talking picture, "The Man I Love" which will show at the Met theatre Friday. William A. Wellman, who previously worked with Arlen in "Wings," "Beggars of Life" and "Ladies of the Mob," directed "The Man I Love."

The new contract marks Arlen's eighth contract renewal with Paramount since he was first signed to play in the Beery-Hatton comedy, "Behind the Front." His next step forward was in "Old Ironsides." Then he played in "Wings" with Charles Rogers and since that time, he has had some of the best leading man opportunities in Hollywood.

AT THE CLIFTONA

When a beautiful girl counters a legitimate proposal of marriage tendered by a handsome young man with such a statement as: "I'll see thee hanged," things are bound to happen.

And happen they do in "Taming of the Shrew" which comes to the Cliftona theatre as the feature attraction next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday and likewise brings Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks to the screen together for the first time.

From the opening shot to the final fadeout, "Taming of the Shrew" is just one long, glorious laugh. From the first moment that stubborn Petruchio (Douglas Fairbanks) lays eyes upon his bride-to-be, the stormy tempestuous Katherine (Mary Pickford) there ensues a battle of wits and wills.

Loving her fiery temper, and intrigued by her defiant remark: "I'll see thee hanged!" Petruchio sets about unceremoniously to tame the Shrew. To make things more complicated, he employs the very tactics that have Hair that sparkles!

No one can deny the importance of having the hair arranged in the style best suited to the individual type. Much of the effect is lost, however, unless the hair is kept soft, abundant, lustrous.

A million busy women and girls know the easiest way to keep the hair in perfect condition is with Danderine. The first application will show you how marvelously it removes excess oil from the hair; cleanses it; makes it sparkle with new life and lustre. It's so simple to use Danderine. All you do is put a little on your brush each time you arrange your hair! The consistent use of Danderine will dissolve the worst crust of dandruff; soothe, heal the scalp; stimulate the growth of long, silky abundant hair.

Danderine isn't sticky or oily; doesn't show. It makes the hair easy to manage; holds it in place for hours. "Set" your waves with it and see how much longer they stay in.

The used car buyer has a right to expect a bargain

Automobile prices come down a great deal faster than mileage runs up.

That is especially true when cars are traded in after one season's use, which is often the case.

So, any used car is a bargain if the price is a true indication of the car's value.

Our used cars are always bargains, for prices here are based on unused mileage.

An examination of our used cars will convince you of this.

Come in and look our used cars over and you will be convinced of this fact.

NOTRE DAME AND SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA IN BIG GAME

Pitt May Meet Tartar In Carnegie Tech—Purdue Meets Iowa In Game Which May Settle Big Ten—Dartmouth Meets Cornell and Yale and Princeton Tangle In Traditional Meeting.

By DAVIS J. WALSH (I. N. S. Sports Editor).
NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Within the next 24 hours, the 1929 intercollegiate football situation is about due to give itself up and make a clean breast of everything. We ought to know all by nightfall tomorrow. We ought to know, for one thing, more about Notre Dame's position in national football than Notre Dame knows about itself today. This outfit has beaten Georgia Tech in the south, the Navy and Carnegie Tech in the east and Indiana, Wisconsin and Drake in the middle west. But tomorrow it will be asked to repeat with Southern California from the far west and that is a very large order of chess move.

This meeting will be one of the big numbers of a big football year. Yet so impressive is tomorrow's schedule, one wouldn't care to be downright certain that it is the biggest game of the day. The latter is knocked under its burden of big ones.

MANY CONTESTS
Offhand, I would name the following games as being all-important:

Notre Dame vs. Southern California at Chicago; Pittsburgh vs. Carnegie Tech at Pittsburgh; Purdue vs. Iowa at Lafayette, Ind.; Tennessee vs. Vanderbilt at Knoxville; Texas vs. Texas Christian at Austin; Nebraska vs. Oklahoma at Lincoln; Dartmouth vs. Cornell at Hanover, N. H.; Utah vs. Wyoming at Laramie.

This layout means that, within a few hours, the National, Eastern, Big Ten, Southern, Big Six and Rocky Mountain championships may be settled beyond recall. It is a situation that makes Nov. 16th climax day of the year. Only the west coast is inactive.

The Notre Dame-U. S. C. game may mean the difference between national honors and almost none at all. The Trojans blew one to California two weeks ago but they are a great ball team, combining remarkable speed with even more remarkable power, and the coast thinks they are six, two and even. They will have to be a great ball team to lick a Notre Dame outfit that is on the verge of national recognition and knows that it might even cash the bet tomorrow with Pittsburgh, Purdue, Tennessee, the two Texas teams, Utah, Cornell and other contenders involved in a lot of all-or-nothing football games.

The day is so tremendous in significance that it has made a sort of neighborhood game out of a traditional big time like the Yale-Princeton meeting. Nor do hardly perennials such as Syracuse vs. Colgate, Pennsylvania vs. Columbia, Georgia Tech vs. Alabama, and Illinois vs. Chicago escape this shadow of comparative obscurity, either. They are cli-

ARRANGE FUNERAL FOR "IRON MAN" DELAY PETIT JURY SESSION

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—(INS)—Arrangements were completed today for the funeral of Joe McGinnity, the famous "iron man" of baseball, who died after a lingering illness yesterday.

Many prominent personages in the baseball world are expected to attend the services, which will be held tomorrow at the Church of Our Lady of Heavenly Rest.

It was announced that burial would follow in a cemetery in Brooklyn, where McGinnity had lived during the last two years with his sister. Previously it was reported the body might be shipped to McAlester, Oklahoma. McGinnity's home town, near where he made his debut as a sandlot pitcher many years ago. His wife is buried there.

Among those expected to attend the services is John McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, who characterized the "iron man" as "a great fellow and the hardest working pitcher I ever had on my ball club."

LONDON, Nov. 15.—(INS)—Frudent documents upon which they granted credit today were cited by officials of J. Horstman Co., Ltd., as the main reasons why the banking house was forced to suspend payments yesterday. The company had a capital of $5,000,000. According to reports here Herr Hans Katz, Greek consul at Baden-Baden involved in some Horstman dealing, committed suicide by drowning.

Does Big Things for the Flock

Tuxedo Egg mash makes winter egg production rival that of spring; it helps many hens to set "egg-a-day" records for long periods. It maintains health, shortens moulting periods and lengthens productive life. Tuxedo Egg mash is the wonder egg-maker of the age.

In this marvelous mash are ingredients that make eggs, that nourish the hen, that keep her system in fine condition. One of these ingredients is PURE CANE MOLASSES, for energy, good digestion, and to stimulate thirst.

Let us furnish you a trial order, and you'll soon know why "Tuxedo" is now selling ten times as fast as five years ago.

LIFE PAINFUL BURDEN BEFORE KONJOLA CAME

Lady Tells of Quick and Glorious Relief She Found In This New Medicine.

MRS. HELEN REESE

"Life was a painful burden to me before Konjola came," said Mrs. Helen Reese, Reading, Ohio. "I had rheumatism that settled in my back, left hip and right knee. At night I could not sleep because of the pain, and had to prop my limbs up on pillows to get into a comfortable position. As a result of this continued suffering, I became a nervous wreck."

"Konjola was recommended to me and I decided to put it to the test. After finishing the third bottle of Konjola, I was so much better in every way that I knew health was in sight. As I went ahead with Konjola the pains became less severe, my nerves were soothed and today I am like a different person. I am going on with Konjola, for I can feel that just around the corner is the glorious health I never expected to have again."

Konjola is sold in Circleville at Hamilton & Ryan drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Mary Eaton Speaks Before Members Of Local Woman's Club

The Business and Professional Women's Club, had the pleasure Thursday night, of having for their speaker, Miss Mary Eaton, of Rome, Italy, formerly of this city. This charming woman made an evening that will long be outstanding among the many successful meetings of the organization.

Miss Eaton on a leave of absence from her duties in Rome several years ago, gave a resume of her work before the club, so her speech Thursday included only features, which she thought would be of special interest to her audience.

The talk was delightfully in formal, and highly entertaining. She spoke of Italy economically, industrially and socially. Possibly one of the most surprising statements was made in reference to the significance attached to legislative measures of the United States, and their effect in Italy. Miss Eaton explained the effects of the tariff and immigration laws here.

The speaker said that Italy counts her man power as one of her natural resources, and that but little agriculture is seen in Italy, only enough to keep the ground in good condition.

Description was given of the home and conveniences, maid service, methods of marketing, menus, quality of cooking, seasoning and sauces which vary in different sections of the country. The importance of wine to the Italians, was mentioned by Miss Eaton, who said that when servants were hired, their pay was mentioned as $6 much in money, and so much in wine.

Comparisons of prices were made interesting by the speaker. It was learned that brown sugar, is a luxury in Italy, costing about 60 cents a pound. Very little sugar, milk or butter is used in Italy's cooking. In many instances, an American in Italy wouldn't recognize articles in Italy, that are advertised as being American made.

Miss Eaton said that the automobile industry has become more flourishing since Henry Ford's visit to that country, and the number of machines is fast being augmented since the advent of the Ford. Filling stations are rapidly being built along roads of Italy.

By special request Miss Eaton again spoke of the Catacombs and the extent and importance attached to them. Miss Eaton described one room decorated entirely with bones of ancient monks.

The school with which the speaker is associated in Rome, is a private girls' school, attended by girls from all over the world. Consisting of two large buildings, the school stands in a charming garden, delightfully landscaped, and surrounded by a wall, softened by an inner laurel hedge. Visitors from the entire globe, seek it out as one of the points of interest in Rome.

Miss Eaton's talk continued with interesting sketches of life in Italy, and closed with her audience expressing the wish for more. The evening was one of special delight, made possible by the unusual speaker.

Business of the club occupied but a small part of the time. An invitation was announced to the club, to a dinner at the Deshler-Wallick on Nov. 30, in honor of Marion McClench, national president of the Business and Professional Women's club. Reservations for this dinner may be made with Miss Charlotte McEwing.

Members of the club were asked to give the Red Cross contributions through the club, and not as individuals since by this method, 50 cents of each individual's donation goes to the national Red Cross, while giving through the club keeps practically all of the money at home.

FALL CONFERENCE HERE MONDAY

The Fall Conference of the 7th District of the American Legion Auxiliary will be held Monday, Nov. 18, at 10:30 a. m., in the Post room of the Memorial hall. Delegates from all units in this district will be present. Among them will be the state president, Mrs. J. J. Doyle; State Secretary Mrs. Lee Moore; and Past State president Mrs. E. E. Moore.

Folsom were guests Thursday at the luncheon-bridge at which Harry P. Carruth was hostess at her home on Bell Hill.

The house and table decorations were yellow and white chrysanthemums in great quantities. Thirteen tables of guests were entertained at this time. Mrs. Edgar Berrere upheld Circleville's reputation at bridge, by bringing home the prize for second high score. The high prize, and the consolation prizes were won by Chillicothe guests Mrs. Poland and Mrs. Seall.

DINNER PARTY FOR BRIDGE CLUB

A low bowl of pink and white chrysanthemums formed the centerpiece Thursday night, for the dinner table, when Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Speakman entertained their bridge club with a dinner party at 6:30 o'clock. The 14 guests were seated by tallies and place cards, around the table which was lighted by ivory tapers tied with pink tulle.

After the last course at dinner, the guests formed three tables of bridge at which the prizes were won by Mrs. Sennett Cryder and Mr. Harold Eveland. Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Beechy were guests of the club for the evening. Regular members are Mr. and Mrs. Lorin Lutz, Mr. and Mrs. Sennett Cryder, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Speakman, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Craft, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kline Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Eveland.
